Candidates urge end to 'mudslinging'

By JIM CARAVALLAH
Roman Staff Writer

Both mayoral candidates in Romulus' Nov. 6 general election agree the namecalling and mudslinging which has been going on throughout the general election campaign must stop.

"It does nothing to help the campaign," Mayor Hyle Carmichael said.

"It's only the innocent citizens who are hurt by all this," said his opponent, Terry L. Troutt.

TROUTT SAID the namecalling and mudslinging of the present mayoral and council campaign in the city harms "no one but the innocent citizens."

"We've noticed the campaigning deteriorating to the point of personal attacks," Troutt said. "It's to the point where it's too much."

"The citizens of the city deserve a better shake than this."

"I've got information on the opposition's personal life, but that isn't the issue in the campaign."

"I WOULDN'T hesitate to chop my opponent for a political blunder - one which harms the citizens of Romulus - but not for something that's involved in his personal life."

Troutt spoke after Mayor Hyle Carmichael's team paid for an advertisement in The Romulus Roman which indicated Troutt was the owner of a topless go-go bar several years ago.

"Even if the charge were true, it would be nothing to do with the election itself," Troutt said. "I was in Florida at the time the go-go dancers were in the bar. And right after I returned, they were run out and a new manager was placed in charge."

Troutt is the owner of "Terry's Lounge" on Middlebelt Road just north of Northline Road, a business he operated since he ended his last term as Romulus Township Supervisor in the early 1960s.

HOWEVER, in event he is elected, Troutt said he would turn ownership of the lounge to a relative.

"The ad is just another example of how the campaign has strayed from what is important to the voters of Romulus," Troutt said. "I'd say there's enough of this stuff-let's get to the issues involved in the campaign."

"I started my campaign based on a platform, and would like to see the opposition either shoot down or agree with that platform, rather than looking into my past for some alleged wrongdoing."

Administration calls lawsuit 'insult to citizen intelligence'

A suit which is designed to force the Hyle J. Carmichael administration to become accountable to the courts for allegedly misspending funds has been termed "an insult to the intelligence of the citizens of Romulus" by the administration.

Mayor Carmichael, Romulus City Clerk Leonard Polmar and Romulus Treasurer Albert Glinski were named in the suit.

A source speaking for the administrators being challenged by Terry L. Troutt, mayoral candidate, and the Troutt team of candidates for office, said: "Any suit which claims the administration has to account for funds illegally spent during 1970 and 1971 is an insult to the intelligence of the voters of Romulus, because, there were no lost funds."

TROUTT, AND HIS ticket, filed suit in Wayne County Circuit Court last week in an effort to force Carmichael and his administration to open the books and to "account for every misspent penny" shown in the audit of the city's 1970-71 fiscal year.

"Everyone knows the auditors have turned over the audit to the Wayne County Prosecutor for action," Troutt said Monday. "But there is no action, only a bunch of charges and counter charges in the election campaign."

"I want to remove the matter from the political arena and place it in the courts where something can be settled."

"We're not only concerned about misspent funds during 1970 and 1971, but continual violations of the city charter."

"ACCORDING TO some of our sources in the administration, the practices chastised in the 1970-71 audit continue unabated."

"We want to see them stopped for the citizens of Romulus."

The Carmichael spokesman said Troutt's charges were unfounded, adding: "The audit never showed any loss of funds, but merely some deviations from the accepted method in spending the funds."

"There isn't one dime which is not accounted for in the audit, and in fact, the auditors told the city council in a report that Romulus should be commended for such tight spending procedures."

"WE DON'T KNOW where the information on misspent funds comes from, but it is erroneous - and I would say - political in nature."

Troutt contends, however, the audit did not show everything rosy in Romulus.

"Everytime someone talks about the audit, the administration claims everything's fine and on the up and up," he said. "But, there are some pretty serious accusations contained in the audit, which I think the citizens in Romulus should have an answer for."

"That's why we went to the Wayne County Prosecutor for action, and that's also why we took it upon ourselves to file suit in circuit court, to remove the entire matter from the political arena."

"WE WANT the matters explained, either to the prosecutor or to the courts and a jury."

Troutt said no date has been set for a hearing on the charges filed in the suit.

The attorney handling the case is William Munger of Farmington.

Voters to decide charter issues in city's Nov. 6 general election

By JIM CARAVALLAH
Roman Staff Writer

While most of the attention in the Nov. 6 general election has been given to the fight among the candidates for seven city council seats and three administrative posts, another issue will be decided by the voters that day.

Romulus residents will be asked to make the first major overhaul of the city's three-year-old charter, changing seven sections of that document.

Changes asked of the voters will clarify and define the powers of the council and administration; ask for an increased term for city councilmen; define the rights of department heads at the time of dismissal; change some election procedures, and clarify the warrant procedure while establishing a new city office.

THE RECOMMENDATIONS for change came from a five-member charter commission, established and appointed by the council.

Sitting on the commission, which met during the past year to research the city charter, were Romulus councilmen Edmund Bizek Jr., Brooker Edwards and Ellis T. Pennington, along with citizen Nellie Wehnt and city employee Deana Loven-duski.

Bizek served as commission chairman.

The first decision requested of the voters this November will be change in the terms in office for the city's seven councilmen.

RECOMMENDED BY the commission were four-year terms, staggered so that four councilmen receive four-year terms in one election and three receive four-year terms two years afterwards, instead of the present seven two-year terms.

Other wording in the change will provide for setting up the staggered terms, with the top four vote getters in 1975 serving four-year terms from that election and the remaining three vote getters serving two-year terms from the election. The lower three will then face re-election in 1977, and council terms will be staggered in ensuing years.

The second section for voter perusal will be a portion defining the duties of the mayor and council when dealing with appointed officials.

The proposal from the charter commission calls for a public hearing on all appointments and dismissals made by the mayor and council.

THE THIRD recommended change from the charter commission defines the powers of the mayor pro-tem.

The change allows for the appointment of a mayor by the Township to sue county on taxes

By HENRY CANTIN
Roman Staff Writer

Huron Township is suing the Michigan State Tax Commission on a disputed property tax factor set by the county.

The suit, filed last Tuesday, is against the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

The bill of complaint charges the county commissioners "failed, neglected and refused" to follow required legal procedures on a tax appeal filed by the township last May.

AN EARLIER court suit filed by the township regarding the tax factor controver, which involved a "time technicality," has been withdrawn and a new suit involving an alleged violation of legal procedures on a tax appeal to commissioners was filed.

The township appeal involves a state taxation factor used in the computation of property taxation called state equalized valuation.

The valuation factor is a percentage that the county used against the township's property tax rolls.

The state requires that all property be assessed at 50 per cent of true cash value, and the valuation factor is set and

Small farmer 'dying' in Romulus today

By JIM CARAVALLAH
Roman Staff Writer

The small farmer in Romulus is dying as the community grows - but for two different reasons.

Nick Hadyaniak, co-owner of Hadyaniak's farm in Romulus at Grant and Wayne roads with his brother, Jim, and George Carpenter, owner of the Alcays Farm on Cogswell Road near Van Born Road, both would like to leave the community.

Carpenter said he's being squeezed out by increasing taxes, and Hadyaniak said he's being squeezed out by the airport expansion.

CARPENTER SAID: "It started around 1956 or 1957, and taxes began rising. It seems as though about then, the taxes tripled, and they've been rising approximately $400 each year."

Last year's taxes on the 80-acre farm were just below $8,000 and this year, they should be between $8,300 and $8,400 according to Carpenter.

"There's no farm that can make $100 per acre today, unless you grow marijuana," he added.

Hadyaniak said he can afford his taxes, but that airport expansion, which took 90 of his 110 acres, and low profit on milk is hurting his chances at succeeding in Romulus.

"PEOPLE BLAME us for their rising costs," Hadyaniak said. "But we don't raise the prices."

"We'd like an increase, but we aren't getting it. For an example, we were promised an increase on milk of between 35 and 40 cents per 100 lbs. prior to the wage-price freeze, but that came out six cents per 100 pounds.

"Yet, you watch, and the distributor is increasing his costs."

Hadyaniak said he isn't hurt by taxes mainly because he rents the more than 400 acres it takes to keep his 37 milking cows in feed.

And he's upset about having to rent so much land for farming.

"The airport keeps on taking land from us," he said. "And then leaves it sit vacant, overgrown with weeds. It's unproductive land."

"I would have used it for grazing, but now it's

Hospital care unit expansion okayed

Steps were taken toward expanding the intensive care and cardiac care units of People's Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) facilities.

The PCHA board of directors authorized the hiring of the architectural firm of Rossetti Associates, Inc. to research the problem of expanding the existing intensive care and cardiac care units in Annapolis, Outer Drive and Seaway Hospitals to meet more stringent state regulations.

The firm, nationally known for its work in planning and engineering efficient building designs, has been hired to first study operations in the three hospitals, and then, to recommend where expanded intensive care units can be placed to provide the greatest efficiency of care.

THE FIRM was retained on a contract which called for the authority to pay 2 1/2 times Rossetti Associates' employees hourly rates, while they study the problem of the operation of the three hospitals.

The big switch is coming State to push 'metric' education

By WES THORP
Enterprise-Roman
Lansing Bureau

LANSING — Three words — meter, liter and gram — may soon become the spark for lively family discussions about the dinner table. The kids will be talking about liters of milk, kilograms of hamburger and kilometers of distance.

Their parents will probably still be using the traditional units of measurement — quarts, pounds, miles, etc. Youngsters will be the first targets of the efforts in the state to convert to the metric system of measurement. THE STATE BOARD of Education has approved an intensive metric education program with June of 1976 set as the date for a complete changeover to the metric system. It's part of a national effort to make the switch, with several bills in Congress which set-up a timetable for a country-wide conversion to the measurement system which is used throughout much of the world. To make the conversion in Michigan as painless as possible, State Superintendent of Public Instruction John W. Porter has been directed to take the following steps:

—Take steps to insure that all math and science textbooks sold in Michigan after June of 1976 contain the metric system as the dominant form of measure.

—Develop a pocket card on metric transition for use by all students and adults in the state.

—Consult with three major education advisory groups to develop a course of action that would be most effective for introducing a metric education program in Michigan.

"AS ONE OF THE nation's leading educational and industrial states, Michigan should take the lead in implementing the instruction of the International System of Units (metric system)," Porter said.

Rather than have the conversion to the metric system take place over a period of time, Porter said he favors a "cold turkey" approach where the change takes place on a certain date.

"Studies have shown that the conversion to the metric system by a dual approach — that of maintaining two systems and converting back and forth until the traditional system dies out — is very impractical," he said.

The traditional system has great tenacity, Porter added, "and the process of dualism is generally continued until government intervention ends the confusion by ordering the change."

THERE ARE SEVERAL benefits to switching to the metric system, Porter maintains, which include:

—The advantages and efficiencies of a simpler, "more rational measurement system."

—The potential for enhanced world trade.

—The opportunity for modernizing our present system of industrial standard.

COMPUTERIZED BEAUTY CONTEST — Carol Richards of Belleville, is one of 30 finalists in the "Miss Greater Detroit Pageant," being held Oct. 21 at Cobo Hall. Winner at this contest, featuring judging by the entire audience, will go to Las Vegas to compete in the national finals of the Queen of Queens, Inc. Tickets for the pageant, including banquet and pre-contest entertainment, are available. The ticket gives you a vote (computer tabulated) and a chance to win an all expense paid trip for two to Las Vegas in April for the finals and the $10,000 spectator-judge cash prize. For further information, call 873-0335 or 873-0336.

Post offices to offer $300 money orders

Money order with a $300 limit will be available at all local post offices beginning Oct. 13.

Postmasters Ray J. O'Neil of Belleville and William J. Laginess of Romulus said the new system can save both the customer and the U.S. Postal Service money. Buyers of the new money order will pay one fee — 40 cents — for money orders valued from $50.01 to $300.

"Under the old system, a $300 money order would involve three 40 cents fees. The new system will provide a reduction.

The postal service has centralized administration of its money order system at the Postal Data Center in St. Louis.

"It has the most advanced paper forms processing system of its type in the world and as a result of this efficiency the postal service expects to save about $1.6 million a year," the postmasters said.

They added that a new money order imprinter will replace the punch machine now in use.

"The imprinter is based on the same method of printing as the credit card imprinters used in department stores, restaurants and gas stations," they said. It is designed to save time and effort at the postal window."

County approves PRESCAD budget

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners approved a budget of nearly $4 million for Project PRESCAD, a special program of health care for disadvantaged pre-school, school-age children and adolescents.

Approval of $3,770,000 was granted by the commissioners at a recent meeting covering the fiscal year 1973-74, which ends June 30. That includes a $396,375 expenditure to expand and improve PRESCAD services through Children's Hospital of Michigan. Also included in a $166,745 agreement with the Southeastern Michigan Tuberculosis Detection Project.

The contract with Children's Hospital will pay for recruitment of physicians to work in PRESCAD clinics, provide them with staff privileges at the hospital, and reimburse the hospital for care of PRESCAD patients who have no health care insurance or other means of payment for health needs.

The Tuberculosis Detection Project will furnish statistical analysis and evaluation of services performed under the PRESCAD Maternal and Child Health Services program.

PRESCAD is a program established by Congress in 1965 and is financed mostly with federal funds.

No county money is involved in either project, although the county commissioners and the county board of health have responsibility for executing the program. The program serves both the City of Detroit and suburbs.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

In spite of wide publicity litter bugs have lustily multiplied in recent years. Bugs and pests of other types can be reasonably well controlled. Mosquitoes can be eliminated by sprays and repellents. Flies can be kept off by repellents and insect nets. Mice, rats and other pests can be eliminated by poisons, traps and other methods. Not so with the litter bug! Controlling the litter bug is a much slower process and, far more costly.

Contrary to general opinion, litter bugs are not always vacationers, fishermen, hunters, campers, picnickers, motorists and others who seek the outdoors for pleasure and recreation. It is a known fact that local residents are the most insidious litter bugs in ANY city, including our own! Anti-littering laws exist but seem unenforceable. Apart from health and beauty considerations, a sense of civic pride MUST be instilled in people. The question is "How"? Got any suggestions or ideas on methods previously tried — or untried?

In insurance

Original coverages may not be adequate

"I thought that we had better coverage!"

How often the above statement is asked whenever a problem arises and a claim is made for either an auto accident, a loss in the home or at the time of hospitalization or death of a member of the family. Most people rely on their insurance agent for advice as to the type of insurance program best suited for their needs and wallets.

Yet, with the passage of time and events and the mobility with which we move continually, the insurance coverages at the time a policy was taken out may no longer meet the ever rising cost of our daily living standard.

K-LINE Insurance Associates, under the direction of Charles R. Kline, believes in programming a person's life insurance program rather than just securing another policy. The Base Policy is not the real worth of a policy but the riders and endorsements attached to that policy will usually prove to be more valuable in the long run than just the death benefit.

With regard to Auto Insurance and Home Owner Coverage, most people use the phrase, "I have Complete Coverage." What does that really mean? Has any one sat down with the buyer of the policy to explain what the numbers represent, or what they are covered for in the event of a loss-claim or disaster?

People pay money for insurance protection, but what are they really being protected for or against?

K-LINE Insurance believes in and practices the philosophy of meeting all of their clients either at time of application inception or at time of delivery. Thus, each knows the other personally so that a sound rapport can be built over the years, and explains each number on a policy or each endorsement.

Is it better to have a different agent for each type of policy or coverage one may own — life, health, car, auto etc., or is it better to have one agent handling the family's insurance program? Kline believes that if you have a "good" agent than a person or family probably would be better with one good agent than with many agents. If you are getting this type of service with your present agent... Don't change! Otherwise call K-Line Insurance at 941-5677.

ABLE ASSISTANT — Mrs. Charles Kline, wife of the owner of K-Line Insurance, is ready to help any of the company's subscribers plan their protection rationally.

PCHA facilities adopt abortion regulations

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Roman Staff Writer

Because of the U.S. Supreme Court ruling making abortions legal, the People's Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) Board of Directors last night adopted regulations on how abortions can be performed and regulated in the authority's four facilities.

The board of directors acted after receiving a legal opinion from PCHA Counsel B. Ward Smith which stated that the U.S. Supreme Court has ruled on the legality of abortions, and that public institutions can no longer refuse to perform them.

The board's chairman, Donald Pizzimenti, said: "It is no longer a case of whether

Public institutions must perform abortions abortions can be performed — the Supreme Court has decided that — but it's a case tonight whether we will adopt the guidelines proposed to us by the Medical Advisory Committee."

WITH ONLY A few dissenting votes being cast, the board then adopted the guidelines.

In short, the new authority guidelines state that abortions will be performed under the direction of the obstetrics and gynecology department of the individual hospital, only by those physicians certified by the hospital's Credential Committee.

Doctors who are skilled in surgery of the female reproductive system will be only those who are certified by the committee, the guidelines stated.

According to Annapolis Hospital Medical Chief of Staff, Dr. G. J. Straschov, M.D., only three of 15 doctors in the Annapolis obstetrics and gynecology departments are "eager to perform abortions."

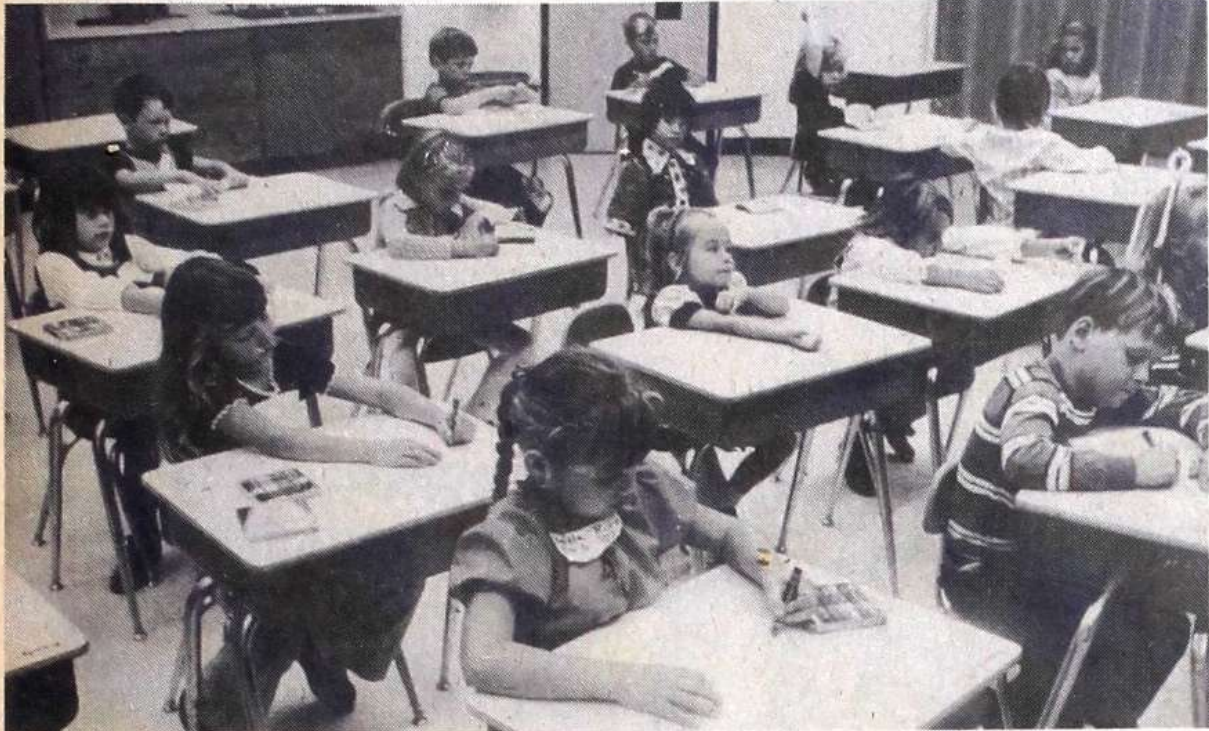

UNDER THE guidelines, any doctor who refuses to perform an abortion will not be subject to any form of disciplinary action.

The board adopted a companion resolution which granted authority operating room employees the right to refuse to participate in the abortive operation.

Board member-at-large, Edward R. Dudek of Inkster, made the motion that the Board adopt the medical advisory committee recommendations.

"There are far too many so-called 'abortion clinics' around to risk denying the right to have an abortion under safe conditions at our hospitals," Dudek said. "If the board refuses to adopt regulations for abortions, there is too great a chance that those who wish to undergo the operation would frequent these clinics, risking injury to their health."

overgrown with brush. It's a big waste."

Carpenter's problem is his location, because there isn't land to rent near his own acreage.

"YOU CAN'T raise cattle and other animals on 80 acres of land," he said. "Especially with the taxes."

"My land's zoned industrial, more than a mile from any railroad frontage, and yet I'm paying industrial taxes on the land."

"Besides, because I have only 80 acres, I have to buy feed and the prices for that have skyrocketed."

Carpenter bought eight tons of feed in February, at a cost of $490. Last month, he said he ordered the same amount, and paid $1,100.

BECAUSE OF the price rise, he has to resort to another income-producing job.

Between the hours of 7:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., he works as an $11,500 per year mechanic for the Wayne County Road Commission.

He fills the remaining hours of his 5 a.m.-to-9:30 p.m. day with farming, and two quick meals.

"It's rough," he admits, "but I have to feed my family."

"FARMERS DON'T get hospitalization, and recently I got hit with some bills."

"It's only fortunate I've been working the county job."

Hadyniak also has to resort to another source of income. His wife works at near-by Vescios Supermarket.

"Her money pays for the groceries," he explained. "I farm full time, but I make a little more than is needed to pay the costs. Nothing for savings."

"THERE'S NO doubt we'd be better off some other place, but the price of land's too high now."

"We looked for a place near Saline, but no luck getting land."

Carpenter, likewise, wants to move, but says he can't find a purchaser for his land.

"It's a combination of interest rates, and our location which kills our chances to leave," he said. "I'd like to get about a 300-acre farm someplace in Western Michigan, but I can't afford to sell now."

"EVERY TIME I approach an agent, he reminds me that it's tough to get money to purchase land, and then, when I tell him it's in Romulus, he says 'Thanks but no thanks.'"

Both Hadyniak and Carpenter agree that the consumer's values seem to be out of phase with their needs, not only in Romulus, but across the nation.

"We like to brag about our cars in America," Hadyniak said. "But people forget, you can't eat cars."

Carpenter adds: "You can do without paved roads, and without running water and sewers, but can you do without food?"

HADYNIK related a story, which he says explains the farmer's predicament:

"I ran across this woman I know in a store. During the course of conversation, I mentioned that prices will rise, because the milk farmers in Northern Michigan were striking."

"So, what does that mean to me?" she asked. "I buy my milk from bottles in the store."

"That's what we're up against, and it's squeezing us out," the farmer said. "An army moves on its stomach, but the people here seem to forget that."

The change would require at least 50 signatures but not more than 100 signatures for nominations.

THE SEVENTH charter change recommended by the commission establishes the office of controller to watch over the city's cash flow and also, updates the warrant procedure.

The controller will be expected to prepare a listing of proposed expenditures, known "TO ME IT indicates that my proposal for a better Romulus is pretty sound, and cannot be questioned - if the opposition has to resort to these tactics."

"Still, I'd like to debate the issues."

Early in the campaign Troutt proposed a multi-faceted program for the improvement of Romulus, including lowering of the city's water and sewer millage and the construction of a $1 million park system throughout the city.

Shortly after proposing his program, Troutt challenged incumbent Carmichael to a debate, but Carmichael declined.

CARMICHAEL said he was aware Troutt was weary of the name-calling.

"So I," the mayor said, "Troutt knows where I am, and all he has to do is ask me, and we'll discuss the matter."

"But, it looks as though he's hurting now, and he's sorry," Carmichael has said throughout the campaign that "politics are dirty" and indicated he would favor a campaign based on the improvement of Romulus.

"It does no one any good if the city's torn down, and either Troutt or I win," Carmichael said.

TROUTT AGREED, stating: "I chose to live in Romulus, and the community's treated me pretty well so far, but I'm sorry to see what's happening now."

"I'd almost rather lose the election than see the community damaged by this type of campaigning."

"It's making us look like a bunch of fools, and when it's over, I'm afraid no one will look to Romulus in the future."

THE VALUATION factor

Huron Township Supervisor George W. Moore, who is spearheading the township's protest against the present tax factor, contends that Huron

The supervisor has appealed the factor for the last two years in efforts to get a hearing before the Michigan Tax Commission but failed each time because the county and state allege he did not follow correct legal procedures for the appeal.

Moore in the township's suit, charges that the county failed to forward Huron's appeal to the commission as required by the law.

HIE SAID: "Our attorneys checked into the appeal. We found that our appeal was never certified and sent on to the state tax commission."

"There is no way they can deny us the hearing."

A hearing on the lawsuit is expected to be scheduled within two weeks, Moore added.

Compulsory arbitration in the offing

Strikes may gut 'collective bargaining'

By WES THORP, Enterprise - Roman Lansing Bureau

LANSING — This year's rash of teacher strikes may touch off a reaction which could result in the gutting of the collective bargaining process between teachers and local school boards.

Sentiment seems to be forming for the adoption of a compulsory arbitration law for unresolved labor disputes involving teachers.

THIS WOULD MEAN that when an impasse is reached in teacher-school board contract negotiations, both sides would be required to accept the decision of an arbitration panel.

Rep. Thaddeus (Ted) C. Stopczynski, Detroit, a former member of the Detroit Board of Education, has drafted a bill to be introduced later this fall which would require compulsory arbitration of teacher-school board disputes.

And, a spokesman for the Michigan Education Association (MEA) said that the teacher's union may come out in favor of such a process as an alternative to the present procedure of settling disagreements.

Stopczynski, a freshman lawmaker and a former Detroit policeman, proposes that a rigid timetable be established in negotiating a collective bargaining agreement between teachers and local school boards.

ACCORDING TO HIS plan, the teacher's bargaining unit

'Teacher strikes are a matter of grave public concern.'

would be required to submit its contract demands to the local board of education at least 120 days before the expiration of its work agreement.

Within 30 days after the teacher's demands are presented, the school board would be required to meet with the teachers and present a counter proposal.

If an agreement is still not reached within 30 days of the counter proposal, then both sides would be required to meet with a mediator appointed by the Michigan Mediation Board.

The next phase, if the dispute remains unsettled would be to have compulsory arbitration.

Stopczynski's plan which is similar to the existing law for police and firemen, would require an arbitration panel to be established.

EACH SIDE WOULD appoint a delegate, with these two in turn selecting an impartial third party who would serve as chairman of the panel.

The chairman, according to the Stopczynski plan would call a hearing between both parties, giving reasonable notice of time and place.

After taking testimony, the arbitration panel would issue a decision which if approved by two of the three members would be final and binding upon both sides.

Violation of the decision by the teachers could result in a fine of $20,000 a day against the teacher's association for each day that they strike.

TEACHER STRIKES are a matter of grave public concern," Stopczynski said. "They are bad for the public, bad for teachers and especially bad for the young people who are kept out of school."

Presently, the MEA has not taken a position on compulsory arbitration, according to an association spokesman.

"However," the spokesman said, "it has been discussed as an alternative to what we have now."

Under the present system, local school boards are not under any legal pressure to bargain, the MEA spokesman added, whereas state law prohibits teachers from striking.

"When teachers strike, they are looked on as bad guys," the MEA spokesman said. "But, when a local school board refuses to bargain, there isn't much that can be done."

The chairman of the House Labor Committee, Rep. James Bradley, D-Detroit, promised that a compulsory arbitration bill would receive serious consideration in his 13-member committee.

"WITH ALL THE problems that we are having," Bradley said, "we may have to look at something like this."

Dr. Norman Weinheimer, executive director of the Michigan Association of School Boards, warned that compulsory arbitration of teacher-school board labor disputes would result in a deterioration of local control of schools.

"I think that if (compulsory arbitration) would be a detriment to any local control of education," he said. "Why should a third party be given that much authority over the direction of local education?"

No more boners, please

State's engineers get one more chance

When concerned citizens and sportsmen met in Belleville High School last Friday night, they had every right to condemn the state's apparent bungling of the Belleville Lake game fish restocking project.

What was to have been developed into a $1.5 million recreational bonanza for Western Wayne County residents—now amounts to a first-class engineering folly and at taxpayers' expense.

When the lake drainage game fish restocking project was halted Sept. 23, the Department of Natural Resources announced that the entire restocking project had been scrapped.

But at last week's public session, state officials said they would give it one more try—with fish poison.

Whether the fish poison plan will work this time is questionable, but it's worth the attempt...what can we lose.

The initial project to drain the lake of trash fish was called off when a lowering of water pressure caused the cracking of soft shoulders along the Belleville and Denton road bridges.

And the green-light was given some time ago, with the approval of state-employed engineers.

The engineers who masterminded the now ill-fated drainage project deserve medals, rusty tin cans taken from the lake might be appropriate.

Hopefully, the revised trash fish clean-up project will be successful for the restocking of the lake with good game fish.

No more bungles please...Western Wayne County sportsmen deserve a fair shake—even if it means getting a small bite of the onetime total recreation project.

Kremlin faces critical rights test

Who are the dissidents? What chance do they have?

EDITOR'S NOTE — Andrei D. Sakharov, a nuclear physicist, and Alexander I. Solzhenitsyn, the Russian novelist, are perhaps the best known dissidents in the Soviet Union today. What is the Kremlin doing about them? Following is the first of three articles on the Soviet civil rights movement.

(Reprinted from The Daily Eagle)

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

AP Special Correspondent

The Kremlin today seems to be searching cautiously for a safe way to snuff out what remains of the Soviet civil rights movement; but while it has won some battles, it is far from winning the war.

It has moved deliberately, anxious to avoid arousing the sort of protest outcry that could endanger its quest for important economic concessions from the United States and the West.

This latest in a series of repression campaigns, launched almost two years ago, has wounded the movement severely, but it remains alive. The drive began when the Kremlin was building its current policy of peaceful coexistence.

It has silenced the underground press, the cement that has kept a frail rights movement together. However, the Kremlin ran head-on into a highly publicized challenge, a situation unique in the history of Communist power, when it turned its heaviest artillery on the outstanding figures of the rights movement.

Stubborn voices, like those of Andrei D. Sakharov, the nuclear physicist, and Alexander I. Solzhenitsyn, the Nobel Prize-winning novelist, refused to be silenced.

The Communist party couldn't remain aloof to this challenge. But these stalwarts were not ordinary men. It would not be as easy to deal with them the way others had been dealt with: shipment to insane asylums, forced labor or exile. Their towering reputations made their voices too clearly heard.

The dissidents are scientists, writers, other intellectuals. In relation to the Soviet population of 240 million, they are just a handful.

Historically, Russians never have been a revolutionary people. In their vast land, change under the czars had to be forced by the very few who dared challenge absolute authority.

Today's dissidents have programs, dreams, ambitions, ideals—but little in the way of organization or cohesion. Their demands by Western standards would seem extraordinarily

After Stalin died, some had hope mild, nor are they accompanied by the violent clashes with authority so familiar in the West.

Many seeking change come from the ranks of survivors of Stalin's terrible concentration camps. After Stalin died in 1953, some had hoped for a more open society, not through overthrow of the existing system but through liberalization.

Dissent had been impossible under Stalin's one-man dictatorship; but for a brief time of thaw under Nikita S. Khrushchev, some hopes were stirred.

These hopes became somewhat clouded in Khrushchev's later years even though as late as 1962 it had been possible for Solzhenitsyn to publish his "One Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovich," an account of the horrors of a Stalinist labor camp.

It remained to Khrushchev's successors under the leadership of Leonid I. Brezhnev, the Communist party chief, to stage a series of repression waves reminiscent of the Stalin era. The repression began in 1965 and culminated early in 1972 with the wave that is still in progress.

The Communist party's upper levels, grumbling about "unhealthy tendencies," seemed fearful that something akin to a political opposition might develop. Yet the more they suppressed, the more the opposition appeared to take definite shape.

Some milestones in the development of political opposition:

—1962-3: The Phoenix group, a small band of young intellectuals, launched the forerunner of the underground "samizdat" — self-publication — press, typewritten script passed hand to hand.

—Early 1965: A political underground in Leningrad formed the "All Russian Social Christian Union" with 10 charter members, professional people and intellectuals. The program called for a democratic system, elected leaders accountable to an elected parliament and some vaguely socialist aims. The regime hit them hard in 1967, arresting anywhere from 60 to several hundred. Many went to harsh labor camps on charges of treason.

—September 1965: Writers Yuli Daniel and Andrei Sinavsky were arrested for having written critically of the Soviet system. Their writings had found their way to the West.

—August 1968: The Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia to strangle a Communist party liberalization brought a public protest demonstration in Moscow. In the words of the young poet Natalya Gorbanevskaya, soon to be imprisoned: "The KGB in civilian clothes fell upon us. Rushing up to us they shouted, 'These are all Jews. Beat the anti-Soviets.'"

Some were beaten, many arrested.

—November 1970: Sakharov, with two other physicists, formed the Human Rights Committee, later joined by many other eminent figures, including Solzhenitsyn as a "corresponding member."

Stresses the right of 'political freedom'

(Editor's Note—The following letter, submitted by Mrs. Clayton Meldrum, was also read before the Sept. 25 session of the Romulus City Council.)

"To the City Council, citizens of Romulus and The Romulus Roman—I would like to thank Mr. Raspberry for this opportunity to address the council of the City of Romulus.

"If my

"If my remarks may sound political in any way, I want you to know that I have been left no other choice—and it is my right and privilege to speak my mind as a citizen of Romulus and the United States of America.

"As you may have read in the newspapers recently, my husband Clayton Meldrum lost his job with the City of Romulus because of my campaigning for someone other than the Carmichael slate. My husband loved his job and the City of Romulus.

"I am thankful to some members of the council for the commendation presented to my husband tonight.

"As an American I believe that it is more important to live under the freedoms of our constitution—as free human beings—rather than to be enslaved to politicians or to anyone. Let me explain:

"I never thought in my entire life that I'd one day be standing before a group of people in this country waving the flag for freedom. But now I must. Because the hand of tyranny and the hidden arm of slavery has tried to hold me and my family prisoners from our precious freedoms.

"One day recently Clayton came home and told me he was called into the mayor's office. He was ordered to hand in his resignation. Not because he was not doing a good job. But the mayor said he wanted Clayton to quit because his wife and daughter were campaigning for candidates the mayor did not like. The mayor then told my husband that his slate wanted his resignation. The mayor didn't have the character or the personal courage to say he wanted the resignation, himself. He said he was ordered to get his resignation by his slate.

"I especially want to alert the women of our city, for this could have been your husband and your freedom as an American, threatened through this form of underhandedness by men who are supposed to be our leaders. It could be your husband, your father, your brother, or any relative, that could be called in by a Carmichael and asked to resign his job because you are acting as an American, a Free American.

"But there is something even worse. It is the two faces that are worn by some of our politicians. For instance, this commendation tonight to my husband was signed by members also of the Carmichael slate and this is crude hypocrisy. Some of them are wearing more than two faces. Carmichael is a puppet with persons like Oakley and Block pulling his strings. It was these two men and others on the IQ slate who tried to take away my freedoms by taking my husband's job away. "How can Romulus advance and progress with such two-faced politicians. According to the audit these men as well as other on the IQ slate have dabbled in buying and selling at the city's expense. Many of you also know that Oakley, for instance, has used the city engineers to work on his property at city expense, city time with the taxpayers footing the bill. We also know that this was in the audit report that Block bought a big piece of machinery at an auction and turned around and sold it to the city for over $6,000. These two men are part of a Carmichael machine and they have made a private club of our city and city hall, for their personal uses.

"I would like to alert and caution the women of our city that they must rise up to stop the injustices and unconstitutional law breaking by the very men who pretend to be our leaders. It's up to us women, white and black, Republican and Democrats, and no matter what your creed or national background is, we must protect our freedoms from these bad politicians."

Time for wisdom

Nixon's bridge of peace must be built

By MITCH KEHETIAN, Enterprise - Roman Editor

While we applaud Congressman Bob Huber's noble proposal to offer honorary American citizenship to Soviet dissidents Andrei D. Sakharov and Alexander I. Solzhenitsyn...what does it prove.

Furthermore, why does Huber limit the offer only to two prominent members of the Soviet intelligentsia? What about the hundreds upon thousands of peasant dissidents Josef Stalin banished to the steppes of Siberia — where they were 'forced into slave labor...and a slow death.

Does Huber suggest President Nixon issue an ultimatum to the Soviets...the kind of ultimatum that might set-back the President's plan of detente with the Soviets.

IF THE NIXON Administration has been silent on the Huber proposal, surely there must be a valid reason...quite possibly an issue of far greater importance to world peace.

And should the President score one more major victory for peace and freedom on the international scene — then all men and women might be free to dissent...Soviets included.

While the conservative congressman from Royal Oak has been in the President's camp on most major issues, we question his proposal at such a critical time.

WE TOO APPLAUD the two Soviet dissidents...we applaud men or women who stand up for the cause of freedom of speech and the press — but this is not the time to take pot shots at the President and to preach for a break in east-west negotiations.

When Nixon moved into the White House, the liberal fringe warned: "Nixon's trigger happy. He'll get us into a shooting war with the Soviets."

Instead, the one-time congressman from California who catapulted to the top because of a hard-line anti-communist campaign, has engineered a bridge of peace.

Whether the Soviets tear down that bridge is a moot question at this juncture, but the fact remains that it was Richard Nixon who went to Moscow and Peking — in search of peace and freedom for all men...Soviets included.

BUT IN RECENT weeks the critics have been hitting Nixon on the wheat deal with the Soviets, getting too friendly with the Soviets...and claiming "Nixon's selling us out..."

Yet the records tell us that these same liberals want to turn this nation into a give-away socialist society, slash our national defense, pull our troops out of Europe, and just about go into hibernation on the international front.

Each year, since taking office, Nixon has issued an executive proclamation entitled "Captive Nations Week" — a blow for freedom first initiated by President Eisenhower.

Yet there are those in Congress who would prefer the President stop the "Captive Nations" bit.

AND EVEN MORE frustrating, these same "stop the Captive Nations proclamation" liberals, now on the hate Nixon bandwagon, are preaching: "He's getting too friendly..."

We tend to think the President's victories on the international front are upsetting...to certain special interest groups.

When the time comes for Nixon to address the Soviets on the question of dissent, he'll make sure the cards are in the favor of freedom. And until that time, we must be patient.

Starting this week and on this same page, the first of a special three-part series on the civil rights question in the Soviet Union is being published for our readers.

THE WRITER, William L. Ryan, an authority on the Soviet affairs, projects on the dissent question and speculates how the Kremlin will cope with the movement.

It's most reading. It may shed some light on the apparent struggle now underway in Moscow...and explain the consequences we might face by taking rash actions.

The very fact that dissent is being tolerated is an indication that change is coming. The change may be too slow for some, but it is coming.

When you consider the Russian people had to endure years of Stalinism...progress takes time.

Nixon must be allowed to construct that bridge of peace...a bridge of peace for all men — Soviets included.

LITTER BUGS ARE LOOSE—The next time you complain about the high cost of city government, remember it costs to keep a community rid of litter—especially litter created by careless citizens. An example of public apathy is

For Huron River clean-up

Commission expresses improvement hopes

After two years of awaiting action from Huron River basin communities to correct pollution problems along the river, the Michigan Water Resources Commission recently expressed some hope for near future interim improvements.

Staff members reminded the commission it has been two years ago since the commission adopted a regional sewage treatment plan for the area as then required by the federal government.

Reviewing seven alternative plans developed by consulting engineering firms, the commission adopted what was considered the most "cost-effective" and feasible of seven alternatives for wastewater management in the Huron River basin in September, 1971.

THE PLAN provides for a massive interceptor system through Huron River communities and abandonment of several treatment plants along the river in favor of one large facility with a highly treated discharge to the Detroit River and Lake Erie. The Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) concurred with the decision of the commission in adopting this plan to protect the highly used, low-flow river.

During subsequent review of the plan and development of an environmental impact statement by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, public groups from several of the Huron River communities have strongly opposed the interceptor plan.

"The communities have not moved to implement the program, and the amount of federal funds for sewage treatment works available to the State of Michigan has been greatly reduced since September, 1971," said a commission staff member, William Bradford.

THE COMMISSION sponsored a public meeting in July, on recommendations for immediate interim wastewater treatment plans to prevent degradation of the Huron River.

"Probably the most significant progress indicated at that meeting was the agreement by the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area units of government on a unified program to solve the interim water quality problems," Bradford said.

The Water Resources Commission directed that a public hearing date be set as soon as possible on the communities' proposed interim wastewater management plans, as recommended by the staff.

In a recent ceremony at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville, Sarah Golden became the wife of Robert Mason. The seven o'clock nuptials were read by the Rev. Allen B. Her accessories included a white picture hat encircled with blue velvet ribbon and a small circular bouquet of baby mums and gladiolas to match her dress.

LORRI DONNED a floor-length dress in pink brocade which her mother had made. Patterned along princess lines, it, too, had a round neckline and short sleeves. Her picture hat was accented with pink velvet ribbon and matching streamers complimented her bouquet of pink and white mums and gladiolas.

Attending the bridegroom were Leonard Bourdeau of Belleville as best man and Richard and Kevin Golden, the bride's sons.

Among those congratulating the newlyweds at their reception in the Belmont Manor Clubhouse, Belleville, were the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Al Hoffer, who flew in from Dover, Delaware for the wedding.

There's a logic to lists, especially party lists. For anyone who balks at the mere thought of plotting a party or even a non-occasion gathering, the arrival of the new Baker's Cut-Up Cake Party Book, on newsstands and in stores, comes as true rescue. Basic? Yes. Starting with elementary cake talk through the rudiments of preparing guests lists, modes of invitation, formulas for all-age activity, and directions

Belleville graduates wed at St. Anthony's

Among the early September brides in the area was Janice Lauth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond V. Lauth Jr. of 44970 Bemis Road, Belleville. Her marriage to Daniel Welt took place at St. Anthony's Catholic Church September 8 at five in the afternoon. Her bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Welt of 218 E. Huron River Drive, Belleville.

HER ELBOW-LENGTH illusion veil was caught to seven lace petals gathered at the back with a white bow. A bouquet of cascading white daisy mums, apricot-colored sweetheart roses and ivy completed her bridal finery.

Mrs. Jerry Lowhorn of Belleville headed the bridal coterie in a yellow taffeta frock complimented by an overlay of white flocking. The lifted bodice was fashioned with long full sleeves and the skirt was made to toe-touching length. Her little yellow Juliet cap secured a waist length veil and she held a nosegay of yellow daisy mums and sweetheart roses.

Preceding the maid of honor up the aisle were Mrs. Peter Mendis of Belleville, the bride's sister; Mrs. Wayne Worley of Wayne; and Mrs. Buddy Hamrick of Chelsea, the bridegroom's sister.

Their dresses in an apricot shade were identical to Mrs. Lowhorn's.

FLOWERGIRL WAS four-year old Kimmy Hamrick, daughter of the Buddy Hamricks of Chelsea. For her uncle's wedding, she appeared in a miniature version of the senior attendants' frocks with a bonnet of matching fabric and basket filled with apricot daisy mums and baby's breath.

Mikey Welt, the bridegroom's three-year old nephew and son of the Mike Wels of Belleville, carried out the role of ringbearer.

Darrell Kidd of Belleville served as best man and ushers included Mike Welt of Belleville, the bridegroom's brother, John Thompson of Belleville, and Buddy Hamrick of Chelsea, the bridegroom's brother-in-law.

Mrs. Lauth chose for her daughter's wedding a long gown of mint green brocade while Mrs. Welt selected a blue polyester formal with a matching lace jacket. Both mothers were honored with white orchid corsages.

FOLLOWING THEIR reception at the Romulus Progressive Club, the newlyweds traveled to Niagara Falls in Ontario for a brief honeymoon. They are now at home at 34420 Sims Street, Wayne.

Jan is a 1971 graduate of Belleville High School and State College of Beauty. She is currently employed at Hal's Market in Belleville. Dan, a junior at the University of Michigan, Dearborn campus, is a 1971 alumnus of Belleville High.

The rehearsal party, held at the home of the bride's parents, was hosted by the bride's God-mother from California, Mrs. John Sosnowski Jr.

MR. AND MRS. DANIEL WELT

Hoyle-Rush wed in Baptist rite

Double ring vows were exchanged recently between Barbara Joanne Rush and James David Hoyle at Calvary Baptist Church in Romulus. The Rev. Lonnie England was the presiding clergyman and some 100 relatives and friends attended the six o'clock ceremony.

Mrs. Ella Moore was asked to sing 'Each for the Other' and 'Bless this House with Sue Simmons at the organ to accompany her.

Parents of the young couple, all from Romulus, are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Rush of 13096 Huron River Drive and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley R. Hoyle of 14100 Cogswell Road.

PRESENTED IN marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in Venice lace and organza designed with a high neckline, empire waist, long sleeves and chapel train. She wore a lace-trimmed illusion veil held by a lace headpiece and carried a bouquet of white daisies and baby's breath.

A lime green gown, reminiscent of the antebellum era, was worn by the honor attendant, Pat Curtis of San Diego, California, the bride's best friend. She wore a matching picture hat and held a white basket filled with daisies tinted to match her outfit.

Bridesmaids in identical pastel-colored costumes were Mrs. Jack Hoyle of Dayton, Ohio, the bridegroom's sister in peach; Mrs. Jim Lancaster of Belleville; and Butch Rouse of Westland.

Mrs. Rush donned a long mint green dress for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Hoyle wore a pale blue formal. Both were presented with corsages of white carnations tipped with the color of their frocks.

After a short honeymoon, the newlyweds made their home at 2437 Marlene Avenue, Bloomington, Indiana.

Both Barbara and Jim are 1970 graduates of Romulus High School. He also graduated from United Electronics Institute in Grand Rapids this past June.

Mackinac Island is Lange's destination for honeymoon

A week-long honeymoon at Mackinac Island followed the September 22 wedding of Patricia Anne Harkness of Romulus and Roderick Stanford Lange of New Boston. St. Paul's Lutheran Church in New Boston was the setting for the evening rite presided over by the Rev. Daniel Richert.

Pink and white gladiolas and white mums formed the background for the double ring rite and candles along the aisle cast a soft glow as the bride approached with her father.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Harkness of 30021 Prescott, Romulus, Pat appeared in a gown she had made for her special day. The high-bodice was fashioned with a lace yoke accented with pink buttons and ribbon, a stand-up collar and Juliet sleeves of crepe to the elbow and lace to the wrist. Chiffon over white crepe formed the skirt which ended in an embroidered lace flounce.

A LITTLE Juliet cap held her fingertip veil and white carnations, pink miniature roses, stephanotis and baby's breath comprised her bouquet.

Wearing a pale pink crepe gown styled in the empire mode with a high collar and pink lace yoke was the maid of honor, Mary Sue Lenart of New Boston. Her bouquet was made of white daisies, two shades of pink carnations and baby's breath.

The quintet of bridesmaids in darker pink ensembles included Pat Lange of Taylor, sister-in-law of the bridegroom; Ann Boyton of Drayton Plains; Charmaine Stark, a cousin from Omaha, Nebraska; Pam Stark, another cousin from Seward Nebraska; and Melodie Dregansky from Hopkinsville, Kentucky.

THE BRIDEGROOM, son of the Carl L. Langes of 2550 Oakville-Waltz Road, New Boston, asked Ron Cook of Waltz to be best man. Groomsman were Jon Lange of Taylor and Randy Lange of Lansing, brothers of the bridegroom; Rick Harkness of Romulus, brother of the bride; Orville (Butch) Suemnick of Woodhaven; and Chuck Lauinger of Pontiac.

The bride, who not only made her dress and those worn by her attendants, also sewed the formal worn by her mother and the bridegroom's mother. A blue floral print with a green inset at the front was adorned by Mrs. Harkness while blue with silver accents was worn by Mrs. Lange. Both were presented with corsages of miniature roses to harmonize with their outfits.

The Carrawee Ballroom in Flat Rock was reserved for the reception which followed. Among the 250 attending were Mrs. Jenny Stark from San Francisco, California and Mrs. L. Waananen and daughter, Delphine, from Republic, Michigan.

A registered nurse, the new Mrs. Lange will be employed

Candlelight vows read in Northville

Candlelight formed the setting September 1 as Colby Lynn Westphal and Robert D. Lytle exchanged nuptial vows and wedding bands. The six o'clock ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville was read by the Rev. Lloyd Brasure. For the occasion, the altar was appointed with an arrangement of white mums and music was provided by William G. Williams who sang 'The Lord's Prayer.'

Parents of the young couple, who are now making their home in Belleville, are Mr. and Mrs. Ted Westphal of Northville Estates, Northville, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Lytle of Belleville Road, Belleville.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride appeared in her mother's wedding gown of white slipper satin patterned in the princess mode with a shirred bodice, sweetheart neckline and long, puffed sleeves. Chantilly lace inserts were used to accent the sleeves, bodice and train.

HER FINGERTIP veil of imported French illusion, also worn by her mother, was secured by a tiara of seed pearls. A bouquet of white rosebuds and baby's breath completed her bridal ensemble.

Mrs. Thomas Singer was her sister's matron of honor in a halter dress of red dotted swiss over taffeta with a little cape at the shoulders and a ruffle at the hemline. Her bouquet was comprised of red carnations, white rosebuds and baby's breath with similar blooms worn in her hair.

Bridesmaids Cory Westphal, Gina Williams and Laura Watt, wore gowns to match the honor attendant's and carried bouquets of red carnations and baby's breath.

Michael Lytle was best man for his brother. Others on the esquire side were Thomas Lytle, Lynn Robson, Ernie Gowen, Michael Melton, Frank Mills, Gerry Rochon and Thomas Singer.

ST. FRANCIS Hall in Farmington was reserved for the reception which followed. The wedding cake, two heart-shaped layers joined together by a bridge holding miniature figures of the bridal party, was made and decorated by the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Frances Glinski of Mount Clemens.

The Friday evening rehearsal dinner, hosted by the bridegroom's parents, was held at the Round Table Club in Plymouth.

The new Mrs. Lytle, a graduate of Northville High School, is presently employed by Allied Super Markets, Inc. Her husband, an alumnus of Belleville High, is an employee of the Ford Motor Company.

Study Clubs hold joint reception

The joint membership meeting, sponsored by the Belleville Women's Study Club and the Junior Study Club, took place September 26 at Knob on the Lake Clubhouse. And despite the inconvenience of road conditions (both bridges being closed) a turnout of about 40 was recorded.

Mrs. Thurston Jahr and Mrs. Richard Smith, respective presidents of the two clubs, spoke briefly on the purpose and goals of their organizations after a brief welcoming reception.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Joseph Witwer of Plymouth, second vice-president of the South-East District of Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs. Her topic was 'The Federation.' at the recent wedding of Janice Lauth and Daniel Welt were (from left) Mrs. Ceil Szykowski of Detroit; her daughter, Mrs. Gloyce Lauth of Belleville holding her granddaughter, Penelope Mendis; and the baby's mother, Mrs. Pamela Mendis of Belleville.

Admission is $5 per couple and the public is cordially invited to attend. There will be both modern and old-time dancing. Sponsors of the dance are members of Romulus Fire Station No. 1.

MR. and MRS. Arthur Stillwagon Jr. and baby daughter, Tuesday Rae, moved the past week from Belleville to a home near Mitchell, South Dakota. Arthur's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stillwagon Sr. of Biddle Street.

JOHN WAGNER left by plane Sunday morning for Iowa State University at Ames after flying here to attend the golden wedding dinner reception held in honor of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hazen E. John, elder son of the William Wagners of Huron River Drive South, is in his fourth year of college and is commencing the study of law.

A FORMER Romulite, Brenda Stillwagon Reichenbach, now of Houston, Texas, recently attended a personal appearance engagement of Tom Jones and was fortunate enough, on her third night there, to secure a front seat. From there she shouted she wanted his tie when Tom Jones asked for request from the audience. Not only did she receive the tie

Officials urge efficient use of fertilizer in fall

Because of anticipated tight supplies, the efficient use of fertilizers this fall and next spring is of vital importance to Michigan farmers.

Farmers now should begin to make every effort to conserve and make efficient use of plant nutrients. They should use soil tests to determine crop nutrient requirements, rather than just pouring it on, according to the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The Cooperative Extension

Service is expanding its education activities in this area, providing support to get information to farmers.

In addition to soil testing, farmers also are being encouraged to plan fertilizer needs well in advance and to discuss them with suppliers. With a more accurate indication of local fertilizer needs, suppliers will be able to provide their customers with the plant foods they need.

Farmers should correct the acidity level of their soil to gain optimum results from fertilizer materials. Soil test results, along with guidance from the county extension agent or their supplier, will indicate the corrective application needed to adjust the level. Farmers also should make maximum use of manure and crop residue.

Census Bureau to survey area

Questions on expenditures for the upkeep and improvement of residential properties will be asked of a sample of households in this area by Bureau of the Census interviewers during the first two weeks of October, said Robert G. McWilliam, director of the Bureau's Data Collection Center in Detroit.

The survey is taken four times yearly to provide information valuable to the government and to many groups — public and private — in this segment of the American economy.

The sample of households here are among the approximate 6,000 throughout the United States that will be asked about alterations, repairs, and additions to their homes.

During the first quarter of 1973, homeowners (owner-occupants of single-unit properties) spent $1.5 billion on improvements such as additions, alterations, and major replacements.

More and more young people are joining 4-H Clubs in area

It's not surprising anymore to find a 4-H member living right next door — no matter where you live.

Nor is it surprising to find members involved in aerospace or climatology projects, snowmobiling, training a leader dog, or even attending a club meeting by watching television.

What is astonishing is that during the past year the number of young people involved in the state program increased by 47 per cent. And that makes 214,300 4-H members in Michigan.

WHAT CAUSED the sudden increase?

Because the enrollment jump was across the board — affecting all project areas and rural and city membership figures alike — no one specific cause can be cited. Here are the facts:

—the number of inner city 4-H's doubled;

—the number of suburban youth in 4-H more than doubled;

—THE NUMBER of rural 4-H's rose to 99,000 (and enrollment in every one of the animal projects increased significantly);

—the number of young people enrolled in the 4-H TV series program almost tripled;

—the increase was about equal for all ages, nine to 19, and for both boys and girls;

—enrollment in the conservation and natural resources projects jumped to 25,650; arts, crafts and music rose to 20,900; and snowmobiling to 9,460.

—THE MOST popular project remained personal appearance (34,770) with the animal projects ranking second (30,630).

Cloud appears on horizon of traffic safety researcher

There is a cloud no bigger than a tranquilizer pill appearing on the horizon of traffic safety researchers these days.

As though they didn't have enough troubles with the ominous statistics uncovered in connection with the alcohol-impaired driver, there is growing evidence that another type of drug-impaired driver also presents a problem of tremendous potential.

'This means a driver taking cold pills, might exhibit characteristics of a drunk, after a couple of cocktails.'

The subjects are not the hard-core heroin addicts - the familiar "dope fiends" of popular literature - but millions of people taking frequent doses of so-called "innocent" drugs for a variety of reasons, usually valid and under the care of a doctor.

A PERSON can be taking such drugs for several ailments and acquired from a number of sources. The cumulative effect of the medication is thus greater than would be anticipated from any of the drugs taken singly.

Such mind-altering drugs as diet pills, tranquilizers, antihistamines, barbiturates and bromides can impair a driver's ability to function effectively on the highway. When used in conjunction with even moderate amounts of alcohol, the results can be tragic.

In measuring impairment, the yardstick must be the individual driver's ability to handle a car when in a normal physical condition...that is, undrugged. The addition of drugs to the scene creates a dangerous situation for the driver. His perception of time and space is altered and his driving equilibrium is thrown out of balance.

The magnitude of the legal drug industry can be measured by the fact that just the promotion and advertising of beverage alcohol and tobacco, patent medicines and over-the-counter drugs costs $2 million every day in the United States.

THE REAL "Sunday punch" of the drug situation lies in the so-called "synergistic" effect of drugs combined with alcohol. This refers to the interaction of drugs which, when taken together, increases each other's effectiveness.

This means that a driver taking cold pills, for example, might after a couple of cocktails, exhibit all the characteristics of the town drunk. His reflexes could be slowed, his speech slurred, his vision impaired and his gait affected.

This man becomes a dangerous driver, by any definition...and only because he woke up with the sniffles and lacked the knowledge of the possible side-effects of his pills and cocktails.

One researcher has observed that numerous individuals arrested for drunken driving also are drug involved. In certain instances, the individual has a very low blood alcohol level but also has in fact, taken some other substances which are synergistic with alcohol and which produce all the appearances of gross drunkenness.

ONE BRIGHT note is the new federal program called Special Action Office for Drug Abuse Prevention. With all 50 states cooperating and reporting directly to their governors and the Office of the President, the program in addition to its broad objectives of drug treatment, rehabilitation, education and research.

American antique authority to speak at Ford Museum

Some of the country's outstanding authorities on American antiques make up the roster of speakers for the 14th annual Midwest Antiques Forum being presented at the Henry Ford Museum Oct. 8 through 12 in Dearborn.

The forum's theme this year is "Collecting Americana: The American Scene, 1812-1865."

The products of this period have become highly collectible today. They represent the change from the work of the local artisan and the handicraft shop to the product of the growing factory system, brought about by the changing tastes of the American public.

THIS IS A PERIOD of American life receiving intensive study.

Among those who will be examining this subject in terms of their own specialties are museum curators, authors, historians, a business writer, two professors of art history, a professor of metallurgy and the curator of the White House.

John J. Collins, planning manager of the Fluid Power Division of Eaton Corporation, former advertising and public relations man, one-time sports writer and president of the Marshall, Michigan Historical Society will speak at the Forum on Oct. 9 on the subject "Marshall's Historic Heritage."

The forum will be opened on Oct. 8 by Cyril Stanley Smith, Institute Professor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. His topic will be "Technology and the Decorative Arts."

FOLLOWING the forum banquet on Oct. 12, participants will hear Clement E. Conger, curator of the White House discussing "The White House - 1812-1865."

102nd edition of circus comes to Cobo Arena Nov. 11

The 102nd consecutive edition of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus is coming to Cobo Arena on Nov. 6 for 12 performances through Nov. 11.

As a result of extensive talent scouting journeys all over the world, "The Greatest Show on Earth" will feature 27 acts making their American debuts along with a host of circus favorites.

Among the performers making their American bows are:

SPAIN'S FAMOUS lion trainer, Pablo Noel; the Bulgarian highwire troupe, The Penchevi; Balkanski, the European trapeze artists; the Djiquist Troupe, presenting the first authentic demonstration of Cossack riding ever seen in the Western Hemisphere; three teeterboard acrobatic troupes, The Moisanue, Varadis and Forvs; from Europe, the Hand-balancing feats of the Alexandros, the Valdemar, and the Obloksis; the high pole balancing of the Bernea, Dimitrov and Gabriel troupes; Hungary's balancing and juggling experts, The Two Axi.

Additional world-famous features in "The Greatest Show on Earth" 102nd Edition include:

Charley Baumann and his performing tiger presentation; The Flying Caonas, Mexico's stars of the flying trapeze, featuring the triple-somersault, performed by

Tito Gaona; Ireland's Stephenson's Dogs; the Saxons bareback-riding troupe from Great Britain; Germany's Jacki Althoff Bears; Mario, head balancing trapeze star, and the King Charles Troupe, presenting a unique unicycle routine.

HIGHLIGHTING the productions is "Happiness Is," a pageant which features the entire company of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey performers and animals.

Other features include: A new theme for the aerial ballet, featuring the young ladies performing high in the arena in "Rags to Riches." Acrobats from around the world participate in the Charivari; Axel Gautier presents three-rings of performing elephants, the largest group in the world.

Harpham to direct band at Masonic performance

Directing the U.S. Marine Band is a boyhood dream come true for Lt. Colonel Dale Harpham who will lead the touring scarlet-coated group during its special public performance benefiting the Police Athletic League at 8:30 p.m. Saturday in Detroit's Masonic Temple.

He is the 20th director of the 178-year-old musical organization.

He attributes his acceptance in the band in 1935 after two unsuccessful auditions to "the warm understanding and encouragement of his public school music teachers."

"I am unabashedly a product of the public school music system and have the greatest affection for those too-often unsung, talented, patient men and women who in part, sacrifice their personal technical development to encourage the artistic inclinations of the young," Harpham said.

DALE HARPHAM

Eastern pianist performs at U-M

A pianist on the Eastern Michigan University music faculty, will perform the Beethoven "Diabelli Variations" at 8 p.m. Oct. 10 in the Recital Hall at the University of Michigan School of Music.

He is Dady Mehta. Also on his program will be "Piano Fantasy" by Aaron Copland. He will give the same program later in October in Washington, D.C., and in Pennsylvania. Later in the fall he will play a different program in Grand Rapids and will be conducting master classes on the works of Haydn in both Detroit and in Midland.

In 1819 Diabelli, a popular composer of tunes, originated a contest in which he invited some 50 composers to devise a set of variations based on his own theme which he would later publish.

Mehta, who came to Eastern in 1969, studied at Ecole Normale de Musique in City plans festival

The Rochester Jaycees and chamber of commerce are putting on a Ciderfest Friday through Sunday. Ciderfest will be an old fashioned celebration of the harvest with streets blocked off, food prepared and served in the streets, cider and donuts, barbecued chicken, corn on the cob.

An antique show on one corner will show more than two dozen dealers "oldies but goodies." Objects and Images will have an art and craft show at Fourth & East Street to display area artists to have to eliminate the mistakes we are making," he added.

Off to its best start in recent years, Belleville High's grid machine will be put to the test Friday night when fourth-ranked Class A power Trenton invades the local environs.

OUCH — Running into a Redford Union defenseman in Belleville's David Dapsi (white jersey). It was Dapsi's 10-yard touchdown in the overtime that settled the issue between the two Suburban 8 Conference rivals, giving the Tigers a 13-7 victory. Enterprise Roman photo.

U-M air game disappointing

Whatever happened to the increased passing attack that the University of Michigan was supposed to utilize this football season?

Advertisements in many newspapers around the state told fans to expect aerial action when U-M was pushing its season ticket sales.

Saturday in the 14-0 victory over Navy the Wolverines threw three passes while running the ball the other 59 plays. That's a 20-to-1 ratio of rushes over passes — almost enough incentive to prompt opponents to use their defensive backs as

Romulus sets cage deadline

The Romulus Parks and Recreation Department has set a Nov. 1 deadline for teams that want to register for the men's basketball league.

Team managers are urged to register early at the recreation offices located at 36515 Bibbins Street. There is a $90 registration fee.

Games will be played on Mondays and Thursdays. Players must be 18 years old and up and reside or work in Romulus. Each team may carry up to two players who reside outside the city.

For further information contact the rec. department at 941-3337 between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Dearborn Fordson team. Truman knocked off the Tractors, 7-6.

Belleville rallied in the third quarter to tie the Redford Union contingent that had taken a 7-0 lead in the second quarter. Then in the first overtime, the Tigers capitalized on a Redford fumble and, when it was its turn with the ball, Belleville scored on the first play from scrimmage on a 10-yard run by Dave Dapsi.

Playing during an on again, off again, rain, Redford Union broke a scoreless first quarter deadlock when halfback Tom Bogdoras tallied and George Willard kicked the extra point.

Belleville got to the Redford Union 20-yard line in the second stanza but surrendered the ball on downs. The Tigers previously moved to the R.U. 15, but a fumble ended the drive.

THEN, EARLY in the third quarter, Tiger quarterback Gary VanBuhler engineered an 80-yard, 16-play drive that was capped by Perry Dingman's 12-yard touchdown run.

It was up to Joe Stillwagon to tie the score and the Belleville kicker was right on target.

Neither team was able to break the 7-all knot in the final 12 minutes of play and the game went into overtime. Redford Union won the toss and selected to try its hand in scoring first. The Panthers were stopped at the line of scrimmage in their first attempt and on their second try fumbled to Stillwagon.

On the first play from scrimmage VanBuhler called for an option and tossed out to Dapsi who slipped off tackle and raced the 10-yards into the end zone for the decisive touchdown.

"It was one we had to win," remarked Emerson later, "and we did the things necessary to win it. I feel if we had eliminated our early mistakes, the game would not have been that close."

STATISTICALLY, Belleville rushers picked up 230 yards and VanBuhler connected on three of his four attempts for 32 more for a total of 262 yards. The Tigers were slapped with a mere 25 yards in penalties.

Redford Union amassed 227 yards rushing and minus five passing while being pummeled for 35 yards.

Dapsi had three rushes for 33 yards and VanBuhler's 16 carries netted him 110 yards. Halfback Dingman earned 41 yards for 11 carries and Hubert Russell added 31 on 10 attempts.

Bill Kinsella had two receptions and Otty Turrentine snared the other which resulted in the touchdown. Kinsella and George Medley also came up with excellent blocking performances which earned for them "offensive players of the week" honors.

Defensively, the Tigers had a stellar performance from Bruce Ford, who intercepted a pass and was one of the leading tacklers on the team.

Art Myers, a linebacker, counted six solos and seven assists while Tom Vacek, another linebacker, Gary Adkins and Turrentine made it tough on R.U. ballcarriers also.

NIGHT OF THE "MUDDERS"—Friday night's rains hampered air assaults, so Belleville brought out its "mudders"—those who like to scamper in the rains—and managed to win a close 13-7 decision from Redford Union in overtime. Above, Belleville's Perry Dingman (38) picked up his interference, George Medley (78) as he heads for R. U. territory. The Tiger ballcarrier has 11 carries for 41 yards.—Enterprise Roman photo.

What more could happen to Jim Stallings?

As if it wasn't bad enough that the first-year Romulus High football coach lost his first three games of the 1973 season, including Friday's shoddy 14-6 setback against Ecorse, the field boss is fighting a slight case of pneumonia.

The sickly feeling — a combination of the virus but mostly the memory of the Eagles' latest defeat — could get even worse before it gets better.

NO MATTER HOW healthy Stallings is for Friday's meeting with powerful Inkster, his Eagles are likely going to need one of their best performances of all time to get by the Vikings, if Romulus' latest performance is any indication.

Ecorse came to Romulus seeking its second victory in as many games, and used a rugged defense and steady offense to stiff-arm the listless hosts.

Romulus could only manage a paltry 38 yards total offense — 30 by rushing and eight by passing — in a game that could best be described as a disaster for the Eagles. In addition, Romulus scored its lone touchdown on a simple stroke of luck, when George Sedlacek fell on an Ecorse fumble in the end zone in the third quarter. The two-point conversion failed, however, as did most of everything else Romulus tried.

"We didn't even execute the fundamentals correctly," complained Stallings, who became bed-ridden with his illness on Saturday, but expects to be on the sidelines for his next game at Inkster.

"WE HAVE TO work on plain, basic football," he said. "Because of that, we just couldn't get untracked."

Ecorse had some trouble getting untracked in every quarter but the second, when the Suburban Athletic Conference members strung together a 48-yard pass play and a Romulus fumble in the end zone for the only two touchdowns needed for the victory.

Eagle quarterback Bradley Smith suffered through one of his worst games ever, connecting on only two or 11 passes and having two intercepted. And Romulus' top offensive effort was Roy Hollis' 19 yards rushing in seven attempts.

That tends to make the optimist look elsewhere for something to laud, and defensive linemen Mike Hunter and Henry Reid got the nod from Stallings. Hunter made 13 solo tackles and assisted on two others, and Reid tackled Ecorse ballcarriers by himself 13 times and help on four more.

"THOSE TWO fumbles were the big thing," claimed Stallings, referring to the fumble in either end zone which resulted in touchdowns for both teams.

"We had a 40-yard pass play that was called back because of a penalty, too. There were too many mistakes that we have to eliminate before playing Inkster, and if we just perform good, basic football, I think we will make a run at them," he said.

When teachers strike

By TOM MOORADIAN

It's been a long time since an Inkster High School football team has strung together three consecutive victories.

In fact, it is the first time it has happened since I took over this beat some nine years ago.

ARNICE JAMES
Best Start

And, strangely enough, third year coach, Arnice James, is accomplishing the impossible with only a handful of loyal, dedicated players.

Overshadowed by a teachers' strike in the school district, James, his staff and the team continue to work. But the drawn-out strike is taking its toll, psychologically, if not in the won-lost column.

"The union hasn't interfered with us," relates James. "They have encouraged us to continue our practices and with the games. But, these kids want to get back in school."

"AND IF SCHOOL was in session we would get more support from the fans, student body and faculty."

There were only a handful of fans in the stands for last Friday's "big game" against neighborhood rival, Dearborn Heights Robichaud. The two high schools are "arch-rivals," but somewhere along the line, communications between the athletic-minded Inkster student body and the faculty was cut off, and only a few fans showed up.

"I would have to say that it was the strike," said James. "That's why there wasn't more support. These kids haven't been to school this year yet, so most of them don't know what's going on."

"It's really a shame," James continued, "we get off to our best start and these players are denied the full backing of their friends and students."

THE COURTS had earlier ordered the striking Inkster teachers back to their classrooms, but the union ignored the order. The union is seeking salary increases which the board claims it can't grant because of a lack of funds.

Meanwhile, Inkster prepares for a winless Romulus team which could be the Vikings' fourth victim.

Four straight for Inkster? Who would have believed it possible?

AS IF ROMULUS, just recovering from a teachers' strike, isn't having enough problems on the gridiron these days, it also must make the player suffer.

As a colleague of mine noted in the Press Box during the Romulus-Ecorse game last Friday: "They want the press to give them coverage, but there aren't any rosters, the clock on the field isn't working and you begin to wonder why they stage the game at all."

My colleague left before the initial half was over.

I have to concur with him.

But Romulus isn't the only school at fault. There are others. For example, when schedules are printed up, some numbers don't even appear. During the Glenn-Livonia Franklin game on Saturday, No. 78 recovered two fumbles; No. 60 and 52 each had one fumble recovery. However, a look at the program will produce no such numbers of players.

NOW FOR A local sportswriter, there is a simple solution. After the game you ask the coach who the players were. But for a reporter that must hurry back to his office to meet a deadline, it's a completely different story.

Schools have all week to print the programs up — surely they can coordinate, delegate the work more effectively than some are presently.

Sportsmen Club hosts safety clinic

The Wayne County Sportsmen's Club will host a Young Hunters Safety Clinic on Oct. 6 and 7 on the club grounds, located off of Inkster Road, between Sibley and Pennsylvania.

Registration is from 11 a.m. until noon on Saturday. Classes will run from noon to 4 p.m. each day.

The young hunters will be taught safe gun handling, using firearms and will also trap shoot on the range. The club has 25 certified instructors to teach hunter safety for safer hunting.

THE POINTE Mouillee Waterfowlers are also presenting a "duck identification course", beginning Wednesday at Janek's River Road House on West Jefferson in Gibraltar.

The course will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Further information about these courses may be obtained by calling Sherman Langley, at 782-2895.

Tiger golfers win

Though Belleville's Sam Vichy is having difficulty coming up with a fourth and fifth golfer, the Tigers had enough in their lineup to beat Dearborn Edsel Ford 168-172 in a Suburban 8 Conference match last week.

Gordie Sullens shot a 36 at Knob on the Lake for medalist honors. The Belleville golfer's score was par for the nine holes.

One stroke behind was teammate Tim Birk, who pulled in with a 37 while Tim Raymond and Jim Jarrett carried 45 and 50, respectively.

"We are having trouble finding a third and fourth man for the team," said Harry Hidenteller, athletic director, who substituted for Vichy as coach. The Van Buren School District teachers were out on strike last week.) Belleville will resume conference competition tomorrow at Trenton. The Tigers are sporting a 1-2 won-lost record, having previously lost to Dearborn and Redford Union.

Flyers land 2 victories

The Romulus Flyers Little League football teams won two of three weekend contests against the Garden City Panthers.

The Flyer varsity and junior varsity squads handily won, 13-0 and 15-6, respectively, while the frosh bowed by one point, 13-12.

'M' picks Flint's Frieder for assistant coach job

ANN ARBOR—Michigan Athletic Director Don Canham announced that a vacancy has been filled on the Michigan basketball coaching staff by the hiring of Bill Frieder, who coached Flint Northern to two straight Class A State championships.

Frieder replaces Dick Honig, who left coaching to enter private business, as an assistant.

In a very short time, Frieder has established a reputation as one of Michigan's finest high school coaches. His 1970-71 Flint Northern team roared to a state championship, upsetting favored Kettering and Lindsay Hairston in the finals. He then came back the next year, replaced four out of five starters and not only won the title again but went undefeated in the process.

FOR THOSE two seasons Northern compiled a 47-2 record and had a string of 37 straight victories to establish a state Class A record. In his last season Frieder once again rebuilt his team and went 18-7 to give him a career mark of 65-9.

The 31-year old Frieder is a 1964 Michigan graduate and holds both a BBA and an MBA from the University. He started his coaching career in 1965 with the Alpena JV team and had a 23-11 mark. He went to Flint in 1967 and coached the JV's there to a two-year record of 29-3. He became head coach in 1970, winning a state title in his first year. In 1972, he was named Coach of the Year by The Detroit News.

At Michigan, Frieder will be reunited with one of his All-Staters, guard Wayman Britt. Other All-Staters he coached were Terry Furlow and Tom McGill, now at Michigan State, and Dennis Johnson of Genesee College.

Michigan head coach Johnny Orr said, "We're delighted that Bill has joined our staff. He is one of the finest young coaches in the country. He proved his ability at Flint Northern when he continually had to rebuild and still produced great teams."

Canham added his praise noting, "Bill Frieder not only compiled one of the finest high school coaching records in Michigan, but his teams were also exemplary in matters of sportsmanship and general conduct. He is a class person and definitely a fine addition to our basketball program."

Sports Meridian

One zealous Cherry Hill football fan believes that The Sports Meridian needs to wear glasses when he attends Spartan football games in the future. She writes:

Dear Tom,

Sorry but I must take issue with your column this past week regarding Cherry Hill's attendance at the Garden City West football game.

I certainly felt, along with many others who attended the game, that we had a very good turnout.

Granted, late in the game when the rains came and it was cold, (we didn't have a press box to protect us from the elements) and the score got out of reach, some fans may have left for warmer surroundings, but up till then the stands were nearly full.

I should know because it took me until halftime to find the group that I was looking for.

In fact, Tom, I'm willing to lay odds that if you would have removed Garden City West's bandmen from the home stands we would have equalled if not surpassed the home team's attendance.

I don't feel you were fair to make the remark you did about us supporting our team - we do. We support our team win, lose or draw.

Respectfully,
Gloria Pluta

Dear Gloria,

What was that someone once said about maybe not agreeing with a person, but defending what he - or she - had to say with his life. That's the way I feel at this point.

You may be right - I don't know. Maybe I was blinded by the rains or after seeing the massive humanity that attended the Wayne and John Glenn the week before. There was, someone said, somewhere in the vicinity of 6,000 fans at that game and I was probably comparing the two games.

But, again, you're entitled to your opinion. And, you and I know that the Spartans are first in my heart, and first to criticize me.

Livonian awarded 'racing' scholarship

Daniel Michael Wilson, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. David R. Wilson of Livonia, has been named as one of four national winners of the first Harness Tracks of America - Harry M. Stevens memorial scholarship, inaugurated this year for children of active harness racing drivers, trainers and caretakers.

Young Wilson, whose father is a trainer and race driver, is freshman enrolled in a pre-veterinary medicine program at Michigan State University. Wilson was an honor student for three years at Franklin High School and graduated with honors from Anaheim Union High School, Anaheim, California.

And here's another from the mail pouch

Dear Mr. Mooradian,

We want to thank you for the coverage you have given us about hunting safety. This is the time of the year that people should be more aware of firearm and hunting safety.

Last week four adults were hunting with 22 caliber rifles and one shot and killed one of their party. He said that he saw the bushes shaking and thought it was a squirrel.

It was called an accident by the Sheriff's Department. This is a perfect case where youngsters are not taught the correct way to hunt. This tragedy could have been averted. We teach kids not to shoot at sounds or shaking and rustling noises - only at the game which is identifiable.

We hope people will take time off and attend the safety hunting clinics that the Wayne County Sportsmen's Club is holding.

Thank you for the coverage again.

George Kadar.

Dear Mr. Mooradian,

In a recent column, Mrs. Haubrick charged that the Romulus Recreation Dept. has not shown co-operation in securing a pool for Romulus. On the contrary we are very interested in obtaining a pool. When Mrs. Haubrick first approached the department, she spoke of a Federal Program with the school and Recreation jointly sharing the pool built on city property.

After checking Federal Programs I found that at this time there is no money available from the government, and as a city department head I feel it would not be proper to try to influence the School Board to put a bond issue on the ballot.

I am, as Recreation Director, very interested in a pool for Romulus but I feel that we need other facilities first such as a community center for recreation with gyms and meeting rooms for teens and senior citizens to use.

A pool could be added to this kind of facility, and I feel our money should go to this kind of program first.

I, at no time, said this is a board matter. On the contrary, it is a community matter and all the citizens should be interested as they are the ones to pay the bill.

WALL-HANGING — Macrame and carpeting are incorporated to produce a wall-hanging. A decorating idea using Persian Medallion — part of the collection of carpeting by a leading manufacturer.

Hand-crafted items make home decorating scene

You name it — macrame, applique, crewel, needlepoint — the urge to "create" has made the decorating scene.

Needlecraft classes have never had such overwhelming enrollments, and enthusiasm for old arts is running rampant.

Use of hand-crafts isn't restricted to traditional home furnishings settings either. In fact, these items are oftentimes the best counterpoint to contemporary rooms and give a detailed welcome relief to sleek, modern lines.

ONCE A CRAFT is mastered it seems, imaginations run wild.

Witness the unusual wall-hanging in the above photo. A ramification of a macrame piece produced this "masterpiece."

Can you guess what the centerpiece is? It's carpeting. But — not any ordinary carpeting. It's Persian Medallion, part of one manufacturer's new collection.

The carpeting was "zig zag" cut to follow the outline of multi-colored medallions producing a "unique" design, according to the manufacturer. A warm feeling pervades and the wall treatment is a change of pace from all the usual pictures.

Necessity isn't the only mother-of-invention. Creativity can come from allowing yourself to "improve" on an already-great thing.

Fabricate.

You don't have to be a genius to come up with a good notion of your own. Fantasize.

Prevention of fire is duty

In most American communities, families that lose their homes to fire receive much sympathy. But that's not true in all countries.

In Japan, for instance, not guarding your home against fire is considered a serious breach of community responsibility.

When a house burns, the family is more likely to be censured than consoled.

THE ATTITUDE is not so inscrutable. In almost all cases, a house afire is a real and immediate danger to surrounding homes.

In addition, windborne flaming brands have been known to land on roofs and start new fires many miles away.

Preventing house fires

therefore becomes a legitimate community concern.

The National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) has, for years, urged passage of municipal codes that would outlaw a major home fire hazard — readily combustible roofs. Both NFPA and the International Association of Fire Chiefs strongly support statutes that would require use of roofing with a U.L. Class C or better fire-resistance rating for new buildings and for major remodeling jobs.

AN INCREASING number of communities are passing such legislation.

Roofing that qualifies as fire-resistant includes:

asphalt shingles (used on about 80 per cent of new residential construction and remodeling), tile, slate, metal, asbestos cement, asphalt roll roofing, and chemically-treated wood shingles.

Asphalt shingles carry at least a Class C label which certifies that they have passed stringent Underwriters' Laboratories' requirements for resistance to fire ignition, flame spread, and emission of burning brands.

Homeowners planning to re-roof should be sure to check local regulations concerning fire-safe materials. They should also look for the U.L. fire-resistance label on the roofing they select.

Simple care keeps carpets beautiful

Carpets and rugs give so much to a room — beauty, warmth and color — and all they need in return is a simple care routine to keep them looking beautiful.

Here are six simple suggestions from carpet-cleaning experts to keep rugs and carpets beautiful longer.

- 1) Pick up crumbs and other surface litter as often as necessary by carpet sweeping or vacuuming.
 - 2) Remove embedded dust and soil with a thorough, once-a-week vacuuming, using long, slow strokes, forward and backward several times. Be sure your vacuum has enough power to do the job, and is in top working condition.
 - 3) Clean carpets several times a year, to get rid of the dulling, greasy dirt that clings to fibers. Vacuuming alone cannot remove this kind of soil, but a new no-scrub rug cleaner can.
 - 4) Reverse rugs occasionally to distribute wear more evenly. Try covering heavy traffic areas occasionally with a small area rug to protect them from constant abuse.
 - 5) Cope quickly with accidental spills and spots, blotting up liquids and scraping solids off with a spoon.
 - 6) Rake shag rugs and other high-pile carpets, especially on heavy traffic areas. This lifts up the pile matted down by constant foot pressure. Use either a special shag rake or an ordinary garden rake with rounded teeth.
- With this simple care routine as a guide, relax and enjoy your rugs and carpets knowing they will stay beautiful longer.

HAWAII

Captain Cook went to great expense to discover Hawaii.

Captain James Cook, the famous British explorer, spent months battling famine, disease and the elements to sail his two ships to what he later called "the most beautiful chain of islands in the world." He named them the Sandwich Islands. Today, they're known as the Hawaiian Islands after the native word "Hawaii" — the big island.

You can do it for $421.02 a week, air fare included.*

Things change. Now, Braniff International makes it easy for you to spend 7 days and 6 nights discovering Hawaii for yourself. We call it the "Hawaiian Hospitality Holiday" on Oahu Island. And the nicest part is that most of the time, you'll be on your own to explore the quaint shops and soak up the sunshine on Hawaii's famous beaches. Visit Pearl Harbor. Sample fresh pineapple as you tour a plantation. Braniff's "Hawaiian Hospitality Holiday" costs as little as $421.02 per person, based on double occupancy, including air fare and all taxes. Included are accommodations at the Outrigger Surf or Outrigger West at Waikiki just down the beach from Diamond Head, all transfers between airport and hotel, a city tour of Honolulu, all baggage handling and even a complimentary beach bag. Leaf disposal adds to lake pollution

Fall is here along with the annual task of raking and disposal of tree leaves.

Michigan Water Resources Commission Aquatic Biologist John Robinson warns that many of the techniques used in the past to dispose of leaves have contributed to water pollution in the Great Lakes.

Storing leaves along the street gutter for long periods of time and burning leaves causes the release of phosphorus which washes into storm drains with the fall rains. Phosphorus has been pinpointed as the culprit in causing algae problems in the Great Lakes.

Robinson recommends that leaves be picked up by municipalities as soon as possible to minimize this problem. Burning and storing of leaves in the street gutter should be prohibited, he said.

Robinson suggests that home owners store leaves and other plant debris in a way that will avoid contact with rainfall, which ultimately flows into storm drains, rivers and lakes.

"Since almost all our rivers eventually reach the Great Lakes, it is imperative that we all do our share in keeping the water that runs off our property and streets as clean as possible," he added.

Belleville family wins in Appaloosa competition

A Belleville family were riding on "cloud nine" when they recently returned from Augusta, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. John Katonas along with their son, Tim, and daughter, Pam, attended the eighth annual Michigan Appaloosa Breeders' Futurity held this year in Augusta. The Katonas live at 43086 Riggs Rd.

Their filly, "K's Poppy Seed," was awarded first place in her class. Along with the first place ribbon the family was awarded a large trophy. This is the largest show of the year for Appaloosas. Their "K's Pop Tart" also will be awarded a large trophy and cash award.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Tyler, owners of Nor-Al Ranch, 6080 Haggerty Rd., Belleville, also won honors at the horse show.

The sire of the winning filly is one of two Appaloosa studs owned by the Tylers.

Their "Cookies Cowboy" is the winning sire and he too will be awarded a trophy and a cash award. The Tylers breed, raise, train and show their Appaloosas with the help of their son, David and their daughter, Sharon.

David and Sharon are both accomplished riders and have shown in 4-H and other horse shows for the last nine years.

"Cookies Cowboy" has won several ribbons and trophies at halter and in performance classes. He was purchased as a two-year-old and trained by David Tyler. This horse is permanent registered.

The Tyler family care for 45 horses and do not get the chance to attend as many Appaloosa horse shows as they would like but they do attend all of the open horse shows close to home, they said.

Attendance figures during the 1972-73 fiscal show 6,520 full time resident students taught by 299 full time classroom teachers. The ratio of pupils to full time, certified teachers is 22:1. Teacher salaries ranged from a minimum of $8,500.00 to a maximum of $17,275.00; a total of $3,799,884.00 for classroom teacher salaries.

VAN BUREN TOWNSHIP BOARD MINUTES

Sept. 25, 1973

The Meeting opened with the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag at 8:00 P.M. Sup. Gollwitzer called the Meeting to order. Members present: Sup. Gollwitzer, Clerk Cullin, Trustees: Blend, Domen, Kuchta, Kureth, Att. Axe, Eng. Levine. Absent: Hedman. Hedman arrived at 8:15 p.m. Also present were 15 citizens.

Motion Kuchta, support Kureth to accept the minutes of the Regular Township Board Meeting of Sept. 11, 1973 as presented. Motion carried unanimously.

Clerk Cullin advised the Board that a correct letter has been sent to the Wayne County Road Commission correcting the footage which was stated as a 23 foot strip and should have been a 43 foot strip on Westaway Street. Trustee Domen advised that the future Recreation Program applications will show if the participant lives in the Township, so that an accurate count can be made for participation of Van Buren Township residents in the Recreation program.

Motion Kureth, support Kuchta to rezone 73-108 from R-1C to RT. Blend asked for a roll call vote: Blend Aye, Kuchta Aye, Kureth Aye, Domen No, Cullin No. Motion carried.

Trustee Blend showed a picture and caption of the Enterprise Roman, Page 3 Sept. 19, 1973 stating Wayne County Sheriff is a FREE Law Enforcement Service, which is not true.

Motion Blend, support Cullin to approve the Resolution which states the Van Buren Township Board in behalf of the taxpayers of Van Buren Township takes offense to the statement that the Sheriff's Law Enforcement for Townships is a FREE service. The Van Buren Township citizens pay their fair share of the County taxes. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion Blend, support Hedman to continue the two car service for week ends until the Belleville Road Bridge is open and back in operation. Motion carried unanimously. Motion Kureth, support Kuchta to table for further study of 911, the continuation of Wayne 24 Hour Answering Service and hold in abeyance the billing of charges incurred when fire alarm was accidentally set by employee of Wayne 24 Hour Answering Services. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion Kuchta, support Cullin to table report from Insurance Committee on Fleet Insurance for another 30 days. Present Insurance carrier has promised a 30 day binder and will present No Fault prices. Trustee Kuchta has promised to pick up the binder 9-26-73. Motion carried unanimously.

Sup. Gollwitzer read a letter sent to the City of Belleville requesting permission to continue a 30" sewer along Sumpter Road into the Township. This extension is necessary to provide an outlet for a sewer system for the Southwest corner of the Township serving 4500 people. This letter was also, published in the Enterprise Roman Sept. 26, 1973.

Motion Clerk Cullin to buy the Environmental Defense Program. Motion withdrawn. Motion by Cullin to table until Oct. 9, 1973 when we will have the monetary charge for the Environmental Defense Program. Support Kuchta. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion Kureth, support Hedman to act upon the recommendation of the Water & Sewer Commission and purchase a Sewer Assessment Program to be put on the Burroughs L 5000 machine. Motion carried unanimously. Set of Articles for Building & Recreational Authority prepared by Att. Axe was given to Board Members to take home and review and act upon hopefully on Oct. 9, 1973 Meeting, or at a future date: Attorney Axe stated, "Basically this Authority will do what the Board wants it to do, and cannot do anything unless you agree to have it do that. This Authority will have no power unless the Township contracts it to do something. If we adopt the Articles of Incorporation, that will get the ball rolling, but it will not specify what the Authority will do, but that can be worked out, and should be worked out over a period of time."

"We have to adopt them and then wait 60 days to see if there is a challenge to them before they are legally effective and it would be helpful for us to adopt them within the next month or so, so that this Authority will be a legal entity without any ability to be challenged by anybody by the time the Township is ready to take title of the Lake property which will be January 1974." Supervisor Gollwitzer stated this authority would have no power beyond the revenue. It would have no taxing power.

Motion Blend, support Kureth to approve paying Regular & Associate Membership dues to renew the Wayne County Municipal & Township Clerks Association Membership. Motion carried unanimously. Letter was received from Western Surety Company and discussed in regard to Performance Bond of State Sand Company.

Sup. Gollwitzer stated prints for the new building will be given out Sept. 26, 1973 and will be appearing in the newspaper and we expect to open bids as of Oct. 9, 1973. Motion Cullin, support Kuchta to refer the request from Wayne County Road Commission to our attorney for study and bring back Oct. 9, 1973. Wayne County Road Commission requested us to approve a contract for Downriver Sewer System to include the City of Riverview in the System. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion Blend, support Kureth to pay all bills as per Voucher Lists as submitted. Motion carried unanimously. Motion Blend, support Hedman to adjourn at 9:05 P.M.

DATSUN SAVES
About a gallon of gasoline a day

With the demand for fuel rising faster than the supply, here's one way to help ease our energy crisis. According to the latest U.S. Bureau of Highway figures, the national average for gas mileage is about 13.5 miles per gallon. The new Datsun 1200 gets around 30 miles per gallon or over twice the national average. The average car in the U.S. is driven just over 10,000 miles a year, so you can save about a gallon of gas every day by driving a 1200. With gasoline prices going up, it's a considerable saving of another important resource: your money. Drive a Datsun...then decide.

Serbay Datsun
34 E. Mich., Ypsilanti 482-8850

Maybe it's time to do something about high gasoline prices.

Like buy a car that doesn't use much.
The Volkswagen holds only about 5 pints (not quarts) of oil and 10.4 gallons of gas, full up. You almost never need to add oil and you can expect to get over 20 miles per gallon of regular.

If you're upset about soaring gas and oil prices and haven't been able to get any satisfaction...try your Volkswagen dealer.
